A Day in the Country Park

It was Sunday. The weather was sunny. Jack and Tom went on a trip. They went to fly a kite. Then they had a picnic. They ate some sandwiches and bread, they drank some orange juice.

As Jack and Tom arrived at the country park, they wanted to see more beautiful flowers, so they walked for a long time.

Finally, they went to the “Flower Zone” but they got lost inside. They were worried so they used their mobile phone to call the police. However, there was no wi-fi signal. After some time, they saw a sign and found the exit. Luckily, they didn't fight with each other when finding their way put. They discussed and faced the problem together.

They learned that it'd be a good idea to go hiking with their parents and be brave when facing problems.

Teacher's comment: A neat and tidy piece of writing with a good story plot! Well done!
