Tommy's habits

Tommy is an eight-year-old boy. His English is very good but he has bad habits. He washes his hair once a week and he changes his uniform twice a week.

One day, Tommy was in the playground. His friends didn't want to play with him because he was very dirty and smelly. Tommy was sad. His teacher Mrs Chan saw him and she asked, 'Why are you sad, Tommy?' 'My friends do not want to play with me,' said Tommy. 'Tommy, you are too dirty and smelly. You ought to wash your hair every day. You ought to change your uniform every day too!' 'Ok', said Tommy.

Tommy listened to Mrs Chan's advice. He washes his hair and changes his uniform every day. Now he is a clean boy and his friends like to play with him every day.

Teacher's comment:

I appreciate the effort you put into developing your ideas. Keep up the good work and continue to develop your writing skills.
